ROSS PEROT SR. WAS ONE OF A KIND.
A true Texas icon for a multitude of reasons.

He created the computer services industry, organized a raid to rescue employees from a prison in Iran and helped so many veterans he was nicknamed “godfather of Vietnam veterans.”

He was called talented, driven, high-strung, generous, impatient, loving, energetic, impulsive and blunt.

As author Dave Lieber points out, running for president (twice) is only a small part of the story behind this complicated Texas genius and his philanthropic family.

—Hall of Fame speaker LOU HECKLER

DAVE LIEBER

Award-winning playwright and columnist for The Dallas Morning News

Ross Perot Sr. could only have been made in America.

Born during the Great Depression into a happy, peaceful East Texas life, he became one of America’s most beloved billionaires.

Whether it was creating the computer services industry, battling General Motors to build better cars, helping veterans or running (twice) for president of the United States, Perot was all in.

He woke up every day excited about who he could help and problems he could solve.

Yet the Perot story is also a grand saga of love passed down from generation to generation. And along with that love came strong business values that built the Perot family ethos: Always pursue world-class excellence.

Award-winning playwright and journalist Dave Lieber, The Watchdog columnist at The Dallas Morning News, masterfully captures this story of generational love, devotion and brilliance.

In doing so, he must overcome his own hesitations about some Perot business practices he witnessed and wrote about for a newspaper. Join Dave on this venture into the never dull world of the Perots of Dallas.
